Class History

Our journey began on September 3, 2003. We were a fresh batch of freshmen about to embark on the greatest four years of life. We were the rookies trying to find our way around the school, dominated by the upperclassmen that towered over us. Sitting there quietly and nervously in homeroom, who knew where this building would bring our undetermined future.

Freshman year, we adjusted to our new surroundings and found our way around the building. We elected class president Andrew Dawson, vice president Joel Bailey, secretary Meaghan Serra and treasurer Erin Theriault. November arrived and our class got a taste of what would eventually become one of the greatest pep rally dynasties to ever walk the halls. We lost the rally, but our future looked promising with this class full of spirit and emotion. Freshman year also introduced to us the "Got Milk" stickers that students vandalized the halls with. The snow melted, flowers blossomed, and we witnessed our first senior class leave us behind.

Although we had a year of experience under our belt, sophomore year threw us more changes. Popular assistant principal Kathleen McSweeney left only to be replaced by another well-liked and respected assistant principal, Steven Lemanski. We "welcomed" the freshmen, who cluttered the halls as one of the largest classes in Agawam's history. Another November rolled around, and our first taste of victory was historic. We technically shared the pep-rally championship with the senior class, but our victory tasted a bit sweeter. A new controversial dress code also threw more adjustments to our class, while our final encounter with the MCAS tests ate up an entire week in May.

Junior year included more new administrative additions, as Thomas Schnepf joined Mr. Lemanski as another well-liked assistant principal. With another principal came another pep rally victory. But this time, our class won the full title in a remarkable underdog story over the seniors. Junior year also brought more controversy. The administration enforced a new ID card policy, which required students to wear ID cards via lanyards at all times. The addition of a third lunch period eased the congestion of another large freshman class. In spring, the dreadful SAT test was yet another challenge we faced. Aside from all the new changes and stress, our first year of prom at the Log Cabin in Holyoke provided a great night for all with a Castle in the Sky theme. The light at the end of the tunnel was near.

Our senior year endeavors began over the summer of 2006, when Steinmetz made us feel like models and superstars for senior pictures. Our glamour continued throughout the fall when the leaves changed yet one more time, as our final year moved into full force. Class president Meaghan Serra and vice president Erin Theriault lead our student body into our final pep rally and Thanksgiving Day football game. In the past three years, graduation was just another Saturday afternoon. But this year was different. This year, we were the ones who stole the spotlight and captured the glory as the senior class. Our names and memories finally echoed through Symphony Hall as the graduating class of 2007.

Spirit:

Something that Agawam's graduating class of 2007 definitely has and takes pride in. School spirit is displayed in many different ways. Students wear uniforms to school; attend sporting events with painted faces, wear orange and brown and cheer loud. Harmon A. Smith field is a place where you can always find a lot of spirit, especially at the Friday night football games.

Senior Spirit

Clifford P. Kibbe gymnasium is yet another place full of school spirit. It is notorious for its orange and brown day. This is a day when all four classes get together and rally for the Thanksgiving Day game by singing the school fight song: "Joyous and ever loyal, let us root for Agawam High. Let every heart sing, let every voice ring, there's no time to grieve or sigh. RAH RAH! It's ever onward, our course pursuing, may defeat N'er our ardor cool. RAH RAH! But united we will root for our old AGAWAM HIGH!"

Q & A

Mr. Bianca, because he will keep me out of trouble and kick some butt along the way. -Mark Jeserski

Vecc, because everyday he has a new story to tell that just makes the day better. -Cassie Ashwell

Mr. Corbin, both for his vast historical insight and supreme driving skill. -Mike DeChristopher

If you could take one teacher with you through your journey in life, who would it be?

Where do you see yourself in 10 years?

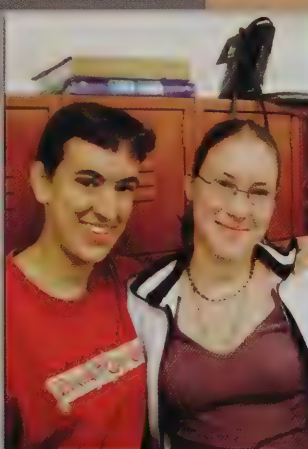

In ten years, I see myself in a hospital bed. My kidneys will be severely damaged due to four years of toilet bathrooms during the pivotal stages of my development. -Kathy Lynch

Sitting on top of money with a cocktail in my hand watching football. -Emeldia Berto

I see myself living happily with the girl of my dreams. Paul Trimboli

The most important thing that I learned in high school wasn't learned from a book in a classroom, rather from real experiences. I learned to stick up for yourself, be who you are. Don't try to impress anyone. -Early Kerley

How to sneak text messaging without getting caught. -Erin Theriault

The most important thing I learned was how to handle myself during a code orange. -Dan Geiger

What was the most important thing you learned in high school?
What was your most memorable moment during your four years at Agawam High?

Mr. Jennings' American History. Answer: Portsmouth. Clue: Starts with a P, and I have a big one. -Kelly MacIntyre

When Dan, Jed, and I got Mrs. Conte to skateboard on a mini-board in high heels. -Jay Fava

Being a part of the greatest pep rally dynasty to ever walk the halls of Agawam. -Bryan Roy

Friendship

Friendship is one of the most important aspects of our four years of high school. Friendships are valuable relationships that provide us with unforgettable memories. True friends are the people who support you unconditionally. They are there to make you laugh when the stress of final exams and college applications seems unbearable. They are there when you need someone to cry to, vent to, or talk to about things that no one else would understand. Friends make high school a little easier, and a lot more enjoyable.

Many students in the class of 2007 have grown up together. From the awkward elementary days to the months approaching graduation, we have shared countless memories that will remain with us all our lives. Senior year is a time when we realize the importance of true friends. The friendships we have built during these past four years have shaped the people we are today. No matter where we end up in life, it is important not to forget the people who have helped us get there.

KELLY POIRIER & LEAH DREWNOWSKI

"The first time I ever met Leah was in third grade. I asked her if she was Chinese, and ever since we've been best friends." -Kelly

BRYAN ROY & MIKE ANDREWS

"The one thing that only I would know about Mike is how many hats he doesn't own." -B.Roy

STEVE CARMODY, ANTHONY DEPALMA & STEVE DONAH

"If I could describe my friends in one word, it would be out-of-control." -DePalma

JESS LIQUORI, ERICA MORRIS, SARAH ROOS, LAUREN KELLY, MEG LALLI & KATHLEEN THIBODEAU

"One quality I love most about my friends, is that we could out-eat any guy in the school." - Kathleen

MIKE SAPELLI & KEVIN SMITH

"One quality i like best about Mike is his six-pack abs." -Kevin

"Kevin is like the brother I never had while growing up." - Mike

The friends who grew up with you deserve a certain respect. The ones who stand by you shoulder to shoulder, in a time where nothing was certain, all life lay ahead, and every road led home.
- The Wonder Years

LAURA LYONS & BRITTANY MICHEL

"The best thing about Brittany is that she is goofy. She isn't afraid to say stupid things." - Laura

THERESA KRACH, STEPHAN KRACH, CORY ST. GERMAIN & ADAM PLANTE

"If it wasn't for my friends, I would not be who I am today." - Adam

ERIN THERIAULT & MEG SERRA

"My biggest pet peeve about Meg is when she answers the phone she says 'hiiiiiiiiii' " - Erin

Athletics

Athletics play a important role in student life here at Agawam High School. Just because the bell rings at 1:45, doesn't mean students are heading home. Athletes practice and compete on a large variety of competitive Division I teams. The traditional student athlete shows pride and paints a positive image of the student body. Lead by athletic director Lou Conte, Agawam offers students a wide variety of sports on all different levels with no playing fees. The student fan section at games also appropriately represent the supportive and loyal qualities our student body has. The ability to work as a team and lead others comes standard at every level. Athletics also strengthens and enhances leadership and teamwork skills that we will apply to form our futures.

Our Star Athletes

"Nothing else is important when I step on the field. The only thing on my mind is how we are going to win."

- Cassie Ashwell

"My team motivates me more than anything. How much they mean to me makes me want to win that much more."

- Steve Donah

"The feeling of accomplishment and the excitement that I get from competitions in gymnastics is the best feeling."

- Lindsey Pfau

Talents

All of us take the required courses like Math and English during our four years of high school, but many of us have talents and interests beyond addition and subtraction. The talents we obtain are often supplemented by extra-curricular activities and elective courses.

Many of the talents we possess are performed in front of others. The infamous Top 40 show displays students' abilities in choreography and singing on stage, while audio and video production shine behind the scenes. Those interested in acting and drama have provided their peers with different plays and musicals, including Fiddler on the Roof, Damn Yankees, and the Wizard of Oz. Our marching band and chorus also express the musical side at football games and concerts. If the performing arts does not suite your creative needs, writing is certainly a prevalent skill found strewn among the hallways. The Mirror, a newspaper ran entirely by a group of talented students, and The Sachem, one of the topped rank yearbooks in the state, provide writers, editors, and layout a platform for creativity on paper. Students' adjective artwork and drawings are spotted throughout the school, filling the walls and display boxes. The vast variety of displays, shows, and publications around school prove that Agawam is full of creative and talented students who are ready to excel and move on to the next step.

Our Future Picassos

"When I'm on stage, I'm relaxed. It's where I want to be."

- Zari Frederick

"Art is a mirror that shows who I am and who I will be."

- Ariana Goldsmith

"Music is my friend. Schmoozing with your friends, taking time to relax and just having a good time."

- Steve Farrigno

Styles

1. Preppy: A classic look that has never faded. Most people say it's the best look because it's safe and most acceptable.

2. Jock: Most often only seen on school sports teams and only one. Saying it's not comfortable because now these individuals dress.

3. Goth: This look has often been around for quite a while and its popularity seems to be rising higher.

4. Chemo: This style is not as popular in the rural areas but in the urban setting it is widely known.

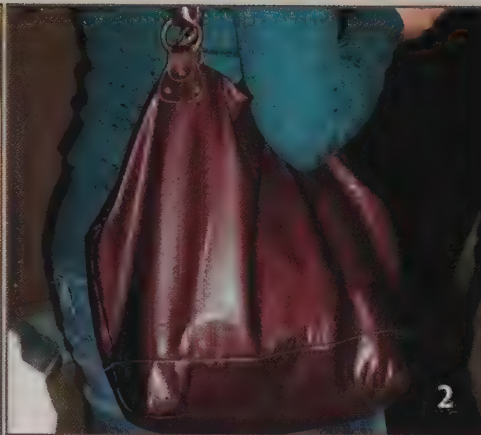

5. Scene: This newer look seems to be a combination of many styles such as punk, indie, emo, and even a little bit of goth.

"Style" can be defined as a manner of expression that characterizes an individual, period, or nation. The young people of our culture thrive on having "the look." Although most people don't like to be stereotyped, everyone seems to fall into some kind of style category - preppy, gothic, jock, ghetto, scene or any of the other many styles that are worn in America. America's youth is easily influenced by the Media's perception of beauty and therefore this youth admires the flawlessly gorgeous models, talented music artists, and ravishing actors. The styles that individuals wear seem to express their own interests and/or desire to fit in. It seems as if the music that people listen to can be shown through in their dress. The preppies and jocks in school seem to take a liking to pop, rap, rock, and whatever else is the "in" kind of music. The ones who adorn themselves in overly large fitting clothing, chains, wife beaters, and brands such as G-Unit, usually listen to rap music or hip hop. Guys that are found wearing skinny pants, tight shirts, and a popular brand of sneakers, such as Vans, seem to like hardcore, emo, indie, punk, or other forms of this scene kind of genre. Looking back in time to when we all were little kids it seems funny how the style of dress that our mothers put us in made no difference, and now in high school the clothing and brands we buy mean everything to us and define who we are.

Trends

1. Beaded Necklaces - Coming back from the time of the Flintstones, bead necklaces are a major hit right now. There are many different variations of these necklaces ranging from extra long beaded necklaces to small pearls.

2. Big Purses - Another recovering trend of the 80's, nope not big hair, but big purses. These over sized carry devices are great for lugging around just about everything a girl owns.

3. Headbands - A classic accessory that has lasted throughout the ages is the ever so handy headband, keeping human's hair out of their eyes since the brink of time.

4. Ripped Jeans - Both guys and girls are rocking out this worn look that seems to match just about everything.

5. Leggings/Spandex - Girls are keeping it tight by wearing this trendy blast from the past, origination from the age of jazzercizing, the 80's.

If one was told that their parents and grandparents' outdated, tattered clothing and sweat stained jazzercizing apparel were going to be in style, it's safe to say that most people would laugh at such an idea. Yet older generation's trends are resurfacing through to today. Especially the 80's, an age that seems like it will never die. Coming back from the 80's are leggings, big purses, head bands, beaded necklaces, vests, bright colors, and non-flare jeans. The 70's is even having a comeback with clothing such as ripped jeans, torn up hats, colorful tunics, and tie die, which has never gone out of style. These trends all can be considered styles of a hippie. Style magazines and women's fashion magazines seem to dictate what trends are in for the year or at least the next few months. Yet there are trends that never go out of style such as an easygoing pair of jeans. Worn first by coal miners, jeans are an easy solution to almost any outfit. Trends like going out to eat at Red Robins, talking to friends through myspace, and listening to music on our ipods are new trends that don't seem to be leaving anytime soon, although most trends come and go all the time.

*"Don't give up when you have something left to give.
Nothing is really over until the moment you stop trying."*

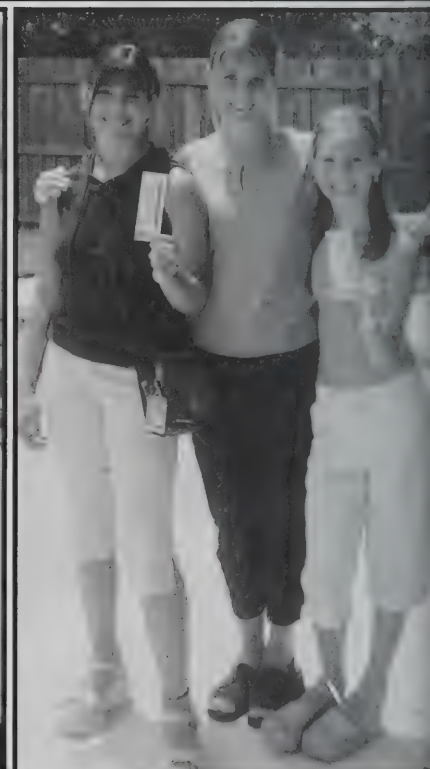

Being part of the yearbook staff for the past two years has been an unforgettable experience. As a junior, I was lucky enough to be selected as an intern on the Sachem staff. Although I got some insight on what goes on behind the scenes to making a yearbook, coming into this year I had no idea what to expect or how much work it actually took to be an editor of such a big publication. While this project was stressful and exhausting most of the time, looking at the finished project makes it all worthwhile. I am proud of what we accomplished.

Without the other staff members, this book would not have been what it is now. Each person put forth an enormous amount of effort and dedication, and as a whole pulled together to get the job done. Kelly, there is no way I would have ever been able to stay after some days until six o'clock without your positive and easy going attitude to make things a little more fun. Thank you for putting up with me and contributing new ideas to make this book the best. I'm glad we got to know each other this year and really pull together. Senora Kolodziej, you were the backbone of this project and it would not have been possible without your guidance and knowledge. Your support motivated the staff to do their best. Thank you for leading me through this step by step and always reassuring me when things got difficult. You really made this experience one to remember.

Mom, thank you for always being there for me and encouraging me to be the best. Without you, I would not have had the confidence to take part in such an important task. You make me strive to accomplish my goals and I can always count on your love and support to get me through everything that I do. Thank you for dealing with me throughout the years and always giving me reassurance when I need it. I love you.

Laur and Stace, you both have been there for me through the good and the bad whenever I needed you. I couldn't have made it through high school without you girls. You are always there to pick me up when I am down and give me a good laugh during the bad times. We've had so much fun together throughout the years and I know there are more to come. I don't know where I would be without you. I love you girls. To all my other friends, thanks for making high school such a memorable experience. Good luck in everything that you do and always remember the good times.

"Never let the sun set on tomorrow, before the sun rises today."

Putting together the 2007 Sachem yearbook has been an amazing and unforgettable experience. Allie, I had no idea what I was getting myself into when I signed up for this. Everyone asked if you and I would be able to create a yearbook better than last years and I truly had no idea. It was the first time we really talked and it was obvious we were completely different. However, over the next year, we worked well together, always agreeing and liking the same things. We survived hours upon hours of proofing, deadlines, computer problems, Señora's pregnancy, and extremely late afternoons. Thank god for trail mix and Señora's treats. It wasn't easy, but it was worth it. I could never have done this without you.

Señora, although you left us early, we never could have done this without your knowledge and driving force. You pushed us to work hard and always brought a smile to our faces. The staff, without your help and efforts this book never would have been accomplished. Allie and I asked a lot, and you always did your best to meet our standards.

Mom and Dad, thank you for always believing in and encouraging me. I would not be who I am today without your love and support. I love you. Shawn, I know I am only your pesky little sister, but I have always looked up to you. Whenever I need someone to talk to, I know I can come to you for advice and a few laughs. Gram, since I was a little girl I have always thought of you as one of the most important people in my life. You have no idea how much your love means to me.

Julie, for the past four years you have always been there. It is sometimes scary how much we are alike. You kept me strong through the hard times and made the good times even better. You have always been able to put a smile on my face and keep me laughing. I wouldn't be the same person without you.

Leah, my other half. I could not even begin to imagine my life without you. You have been there through thick and thin. Whether it was with school, our friends, volleyball, boys, or just having a good time, you have always been by my side. You never gave up on me when times became hard and you never once turned your back on our friendship. You are my other half, my true best friend. I love you.

To all my other friends, thanks for making this such an unforgettable experience. Good luck with everything you do and always remember, "the road is long, and in the end, the journey is the destination."

Brenton Schivley

During the summer prior to the 2006-2007 school year, a beloved member of the class of 2008 passed away after a severe allergic reaction. Brenton Schivley was a loving son and brother as well as a loyal friend to many. Brent loved to spend time with those close to him. Some of his favorite activities included playing cards, paintball, and video games. Brent was a student any teacher would love to have in their class; he constantly asked questions and tried to learn as much as he could. He had a passion for building and spent a lot of time at Perry Lane Park. Brenton's sense of humor and his good-natured personality will forever be remembered in the hearts of his family and friends at Agawam High School.

Faculty

“An understanding heart is everything in a teacher, and cannot be esteemed highly enough. One looks back with appreciation to the brilliant teachers, but with gratitude to those who touched our human feeling. The curriculum is so much necessary raw material, but warmth is the vital element for the growing plant and for the soul of the child.”

What is the funniest thing that has happened in one of your classes?

"When the 'sound man' touched the couch and the couch became contaminated."

- Mr. Daley

"One time, one of my students stole my ID. He wore it for half of the year. Another time, I walked out of the room and found out that the same student who stole my ID, ran across the top of my desk. That was during an emergency meeting. It was pretty funny. He also told a joke one time: 'What floats in ocean and bounces up and down? Ya bouy!'"

- Mr. Hollister

If there was one thing you could change about school policy, what would it be?

"I think that more teacher and student input toward decisions would have a positive impact on the school."

- Mrs. Quinn

"The one thing I would like to see change is the length of the day. I would like to see enough time added to the school day so that passing time and lunch time could be longer and maybe even have a ten-minute "recess" in the morning. This would benefit students and teachers and we would still meet state requirements for the time in learning."

How have things changed since you have been in high school?

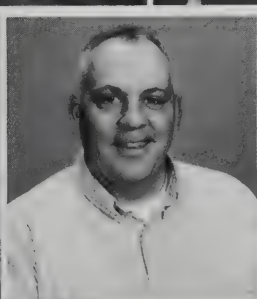

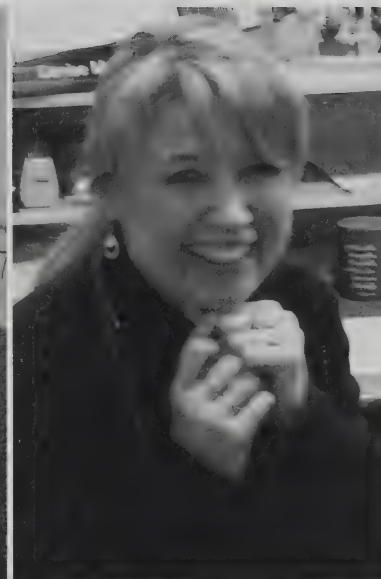

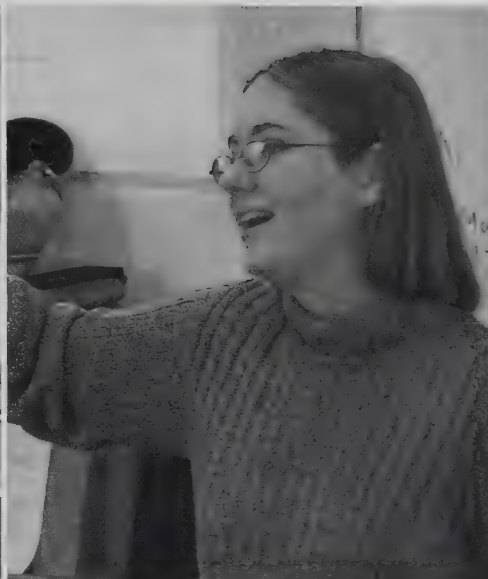

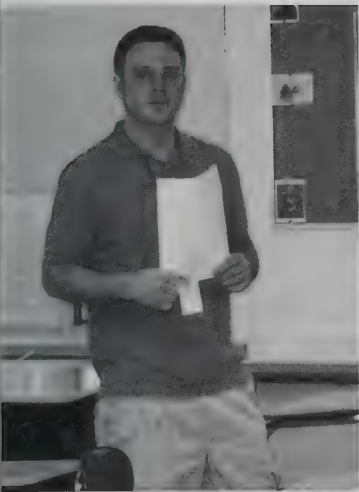

"In high school, we had 6 hours of homework a night. I carried 5 majors, plus religion. I liked weekends, because I had 3 nights to do 6 hours of work. Parents kept in touch with teachers and school. We had father/daughter dances, which were memorable. We wore uniforms and no lipstick."

- Mrs. Hines

1. Very few electives
2. Respect for teachers
3. No co-ed gym classes
4. Students suspension was a rarity
5. No kissing or holding hands in school
6. No wearing sneakers
7. Only seniors could bring car to school
8. Can't remember two girls fighting
9. Fights between boys were usually not in school
10. No backpacks"

Sports

Agawam High School takes great pride in their athletic program. Sports have always been an important aspect of many students' lives. Agawam athletics represent true school spirit. This spirit comes from both the students participating in athletic events and those showing support as fans. Student athletes put forth tremendous effort during practice, competitions, and student athletes also excel in the classroom. Athletes diligently work everyday until long after the sun goes down. Some of our teams are notoriously successful year after year. The Gymnastics team successfully defended back-to-back WMass championships, and the Girls' Track program won both the Indoor and Outdoor WMass championships. Other sports like Volleyball, Baseball, Softball, Girls' Lacrosse, Girls' Basketball, and Girls' Soccer are always feared around tournament time. Regardless of the weather, our teams certainly play with intensity and heart.

Spring All-Stars

Springtime brings budding flowers, green grass and an emergence of new athletes. Spring sports at Agawam, usually bring the most successful tournament teams. The Baseball, Softball, and Girls' Lacrosse teams qualified for their respective Western Mass tournaments. The Boys' Volleyball team, led by seniors Alex Friedrich, Justin Chretien, and Matt Styckiewicz rallied into the championship game against Minnechaug after an exciting season as the top ranked team. The Girls' Track team, led by all-stars Caitlin Breault, Katherine McGeoghan, Juli Persico, and Lindsey Pfau, took home the big trophy as Western Massachusetts' champions – proving to be the most elite group of girls in the area.

"Our team has a great respect for the game and love to play."
- Steve Donah

"I thought the team we put out there had the ability to win everyday we took the field, it was just physical/mental errors that killed us. We had the talent we just didn't perform at times when we needed it the most."
- Steve Carmody

"I thought we had a great team with a lot of chemistry and that's something many teams don't have."
- Caleb Rheault

"We, the seniors, leave Rew Dandall water, trips to laser quest, good trips, grinders, snack crew, Sunday afternoon peaches, and King Ward buses."

Baseball

The chemistry of the 2006 baseball team was the best in years. Although the team finished with a 13-8 record, it did not reflect the talent and dedication of these Brownies. With the leadership of Brendan Ennis and Mike Uzar, along with the talent of Nick Pioggia and Steve Donah the team won the games that they deserved to win, especially the first match up against West Springfield. The morning Mittenague game quickly turned into a late afternoon game when it went into extra innings. The game was tied 2-2 and finally in the top of the 11th inning we scored, putting us up one. The Terriors couldn't do anything during their at bat so the game finished and Agawam defeated the defending state champs.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Boys' Lacrosse

Led by senior captains Brian Costello, "Blee", and Joe McDyer, the team finished with an overall record of 6-12. Although the overall record of the season wasn't the teams best, there were many close games. Two games that stood out were both games against Northampton. The first game was on Harmon A. Smith field and it went into overtime. Unfortunately, the Brownies lost the game by only one goal. When Agawam met up with Northampton for the second time, it was a game which would decide who would earn a play-off spot. Again, these guys did not see lady luck and were not able to clinch a spot in post-season play. Although there were only a few wins, there was both individual and team improvement which was evident towards the end of the season. Agawam ended on an exciting note when they beat rivals West Springfield on their home turf- something that all Agawam teams would love to end their season with.

Girls' Lacrosse

The 2006 Girls' Lacrosse team is proud of their accomplishments. In the course of the season, they had many very exciting and memorable games. The captains, seniors Lindsie Lavin and Jessica Morris, and juniors Rachel Dionne and Sarah Roos showed newcomers their skills and guided the team. All-Scholastic Second Team goalie Mary Michaud was a key to the Brownies' success. Anchoring the defense were Sarah Roos, Meaghan Serra, Erin Theriault, and Kayla Manzi. Midfielders Cori Geiger (Second Team All-Scholastic) and Rachel Dionne (First Team All-Scholastic) were key contributors of the transition game. They, along with attacker Carly Keeley (Second Team All-Scholastic), were among the high scorers in the league. Against South Hadley, the girls pulled out a tough win on Harmon A. Smith field, 11-10. At Amherst, the game was a little too close for comfort; it came down to the last 30 seconds, when Geiger scored the game-winning goal. However, the most exciting game was on Senior Night against Northampton. Coming into the game, the team was excited and ready to win. They dominated Northampton throughout the entire contest. Due to thunder and lightning, the game was delayed 11 minutes into the second half. When they came back out to complete the game, 'Hamp was fired up, but couldn't overcome their deficit; Agawam won 11-7. The Brownies ended their season with a loss to South Hadley in the quarterfinals.

A solid group of returners with many talented newcomers helped spark the Brownies to a 15-5 overall record. All-Scholastic First Team Captains Keeley Conte and Tammy Gorman led the team and contributed to the success of the season. With the loss of All-Scholastic pitcher Katie Gorman due to graduation, sophomores DeAnna Ronca (Second Team All-Scholastic), Emily Laliberte, and Katey Figella stepped up to the plate and teamed up with catcher Amy Mantha (First Team All-Scholastic) to complete the battery. Second Teamers Julie Gorman, a solid first baseman, and third baseman Jaimie Plamondon also played key roles for Agawam, helping them clinch a tournament birth. The girls stuck out some tough games, especially during the 14 inning 1-0 win against South Hadley. During the Western Mass Tournament, the Brownies took a 1-0 quarterfinal game against Minnechaug due to Tammy Gorman's amazing home run in the last inning. The Softball season ended with a tough loss in the semifinals to Westfield.

Boys' Tennis

The 2006 Boys' Tennis team ended the season 3-11. It was definitely a rebuilding year for the Brownies, who only had two seniors on the squad. Jeffrey Stanton led the team as a solo captain. With a difficult schedule, he made sure that everyone always worked hard and kept their spirits high. They had many tough losses, which made them practice even more intensely to get ready for their next match. Perseverance definitely showed off in their first two wins back to back against East Longmeadow and Chicopee Comp.

The most important win was against rival West Springfield. Luca Mineo led the team playing first singles, followed by Jeffery Simpson and Alexander Zmaczynski. First and second doubles were Stanton and Brandon Wells, and Evan Wescott and Houssam Lazkani. Everyone on the team worked hard and showed a strong effort. Agawam made it into the Western Mass tournament, but fell in the quarterfinals to Pittsfield. Overall, the team was happy with their accomplishments and had a lot of fun during the season.

"We, the seniors, leave behind a great tennis team for years to come."

Girls' Tennis

The 2006 Girls' Varsity Tennis team was a stunning one. "All seven positions were filled with girls who were willing to work hard to improve their techniques and to become more experienced tennis players," said Chelsea Hendricks. Led by senior captain Julie Warchol and junior captain Myungsun Ro, the Brownies finished with an 11-6 overall record. Every girl on the team always performed well and played their hardest every match. Chelsea Hendricks and Sarah Devenitch had an impressive match against Westfield. They came back from a 4-1 deficit to win the set and the tiebreaker. This doubles team also played very well and went into a tie-breaker with Longmeadow; they felt honored because Longmeadow was an outstanding and very experienced team. All their hard work paid off and got the Brownies a good seed going into the WMass tournament. Unfortunately, they lost to Taconic in the quarter finals. Even though Agawam didn't finish on top, they kept their heads high because they knew they gave it their all. Sunny Ro had yet another outstanding year. She was rewarded the second seed in the WMass tournament for singles and was an individual tournament semifinalist.

Boys' Track

After the graduation of many talented seniors, the 2006 Boys' Track team definitely showed their talent and dedication. Joe Bianca's second season coaching made a huge impact on everyone, especially the newcomers. During this rebuilding season, many athletes stepped up where they were needed, while the veterans took control and led the team. Captains Zachary Bussiere, Justin Howe, Zachary Matys, and Barry Nadeau set an example and taught the newcomers what it took to be competitive. Some of the returners who scored the core points were Matys, Bussiere, Mike

Andrews, Greg Santos, Nick Midura, and Blake Dutilly. As a result of hard work and commitment, many individuals set personal records. Proving that they never gave up, Agawam was down by two points going into the last event against Westfield, and ended up winning both the 4x400m relay and the meet. Another memorable meet was against Chicopee. The Brownies beat a strong group of guys, and just about everyone on Agawam performed to their best. All of the competitors contributed to the victory by placing in events and gaining important points.

Girls' Track

The 2006 Agawam Girls' Outdoor Track and Field team was a true "dream team." Each and every day they trained for their regular season meets and for a Western Mass Championship. All their hard work paid off; It was the first time since 1996 that the Brownies won a WMass title. Senior captain Juli Persico (javelin), juniors Lindsey Pfau (300m hurdles) and Caitlin Breault (triple jump), and sophomore Katherine McGeoghan (100m hurdles, high jump)

all placed 1st in their event at the WMass championship. The whole team did phenomenal; sixteen girls finished in the top ten in their event and Agawam finished in the top five for the 4x100 meter relay and 4x400 meter relay. It was truly the teamwork that gave Agawam 87 points and a WMass title on April 27th at Holyoke High School. After winning the title, seven went on to states where McGeoghan placed 8th for high jump and Persico placed 6th for javelin.

Boys' Volleyball

A 20-3 record, league champions, and a second place title in Western Mass was proof of a tremendous season by the 2006 Boys' Volleyball team. This team of all-stars, including seven All-Scholastic All-WMass, defeated some top teams during their season. After losing to Minnechaug and Westfield in the first match ups, the second time around Agawam finished on top. On the road to the WMass championship game, the Brownies first had to defeat Mohawk in the quarter final and Ludlow in the semi-final. The final game was at Holyoke Community College against the tough Minnechaug team. Agawam's record with the Falcons prior to this game was 1-1, so it was anyone's game. Unfortunately Agawam was defeated in three games. Overall, they should be proud for finishing second in Western Mass.

Fall All-Stars

Agawam High School is well known for its exceptional athletic program as well as its many talented athletes. During the 2006 Fall Season, each team demonstrated good sportsmanship, determination, and unlimited talent. Two of Agawam's top teams, the Girls' Field Hockey and Gymnastics team, were honored with the Western Massachusetts State Sportsmanship Award. The Field Hockey team advanced into the semi-finals of the playoffs, while the Gymnastics team won their second consecutive WMAA title. The Girls' Soccer and Volleyball team both broke winning records and made it to the quarter-finals of the tournament. Although the final record of the Boys' Soccer team did not show the talent of which the team possesses, the heart and determination to win, was demonstrated during their final game a huge victory on their Senior Night. The Agawam Football team also continued with their usual tradition, a big win against West Side on Thanksgiving Day. The boys played hard, never gave up and won the game in overtime. It was evident throughout the season, the many talented and gifted athletes who contributed to the success of Agawam's athletic program. They are proudly recognized for their dedication, commitment, and willingness to do anything it takes to get on top.

Boys' Cross Country

"We, the Seniors, leave the Cross Country team, the popolo, scat trail, Provin Mountain U.S.A., Cabbage Valley, Easy 12, and a future Western Mass. Championship title to win.

WMASS Champs 2010!"

3.1 miles is no problem for the Agawam Boys' Cross Country team. This 2006 team had an overall record of 4-4. Led by Senior captains, Mike Andrews, Tom Goodrow, and Josh Dion, the team worked hard all season to try and improve their times. The season went well for the newcomers, especially for the many promising freshmen.

The freshmen team placed 8th at the Amherst Invitational, an accomplishment to be very proud of. The freshmen weren't the only ones to be recognized at the Amherst Invitational, everyone that ran had beaten a personal record, an achievement that shows the hard work and effort put into practice every day, and throughout the season.

Girls' Cross Country

It was a very successful season for the Agawam Girls' Cross Country team. Led by Senior captains, Lauren Chartier and Natalie Honsinger, the team finished with a 4-4 overall record, which is a big improvement from past years. Newcomers, Senior Angela Roux, Sophomore Becca Montana and Freshman Sarah Torrey were the top runners for this 2006 squad. Sarah Torrey received an award for coming in the top 20 at the Wickham Invitational, a meet involving Connecticut and Massachusetts teams. The girls' showed how hard work and dedication pays off in their performance at their last meet against West Springfield. Agawam had a complete shut out, having taken the first 8 places; it was their best race all season. Angela Roux, Natalie Honsinger, Ariana Galdamez, and Lauren Chartier competed in the WMass Tournament in Northfield. They ran very well and were extremely happy with the end of their senior season.

Field Hockey

The 2006 Agawam Field Hockey team finished with an impressive record of 12-4-4. Led by Senior captains, Rachel Dionne, Jaimie Plamondon, and Caitlyn Tierney, the team beat some of the top teams. One of these outstanding games was against Minnechaug Regional. The Brownies defeated the Falcons 1-0 for the first time, giving them one of their two losses for the season. In the WMASS quarter final, Agawam played Amherst in a great battle. At the end of regulation time, the score was 1-1 from an Agawam goal by freshman Ashley Cross. With only about 10 minutes to go in OT, another Agawam freshman, Katie Landry, scored the winning goal. Agawam advanced to the semi-final game against a very experienced Longmeadow team. Although the Brownies didn't finish on top, they were proud of the way the team played, especially sophomore goalie Ali Bonavita, who had 11 fantastic saves. The girls were excited about the way their season went, especially their sportsmanship on and off the field. The team won the WMASS and MIAA state sportsmanship award, proving that they had the best sportsmanship in the state of Massachusetts.

Football

Coming into the season, the Boys' Football team was psyched after their lineman won the Iron Line Challenge. The winners were Paul Glantz, Matt MacFadzen, Frank Liberti, Frank Rigali, and Jim Mackin. In this contest, the boys competed in many events, including the 185 lb bench press for 30 seconds, tractor tire flip, sled drive (push the sled 10 yards), and the obstacle course. They also competed in the farmer's walk (30 yard run with 80 lb dumbbells), the shiver ball course, and tug of war. After this honorable victory, the boys were determined to have a great year. Led by captains Zach Demers and Steve Donah, they felt able to make a good run for the tournament. Since many key players were injured, the season was not as successful as they had hoped. Fortunately, many underclass players stepped it up. They played every game with a lot of heart and to the best of their abilities, and the team had great chemistry.

Other key players were Chris Alvanos, Blake Dutilly, Anthony Jimenez, Brendan McNeish, Ryan Morrie, and Kurt Ripke. One memorable game was their first win against Commerce. It was uplifting for the team, and everyone played with intensity. Ripke had 2 touchdowns at the Westfield game, and Morrie did the same against Holyoke. Against Amherst, the boys proved that they would never give up. Despite their 12-0 deficit at halftime, they came back during the second half to win 28-12. Jimenez was everywhere - he ran, caught the ball, blocked, and scored 3 touchdowns. The biggest play of the season was when the Brownies blocked a field goal against Northampton and ran it all the way back to the one yard line. It was a team effort by way of the lateral pass to avoid Northampton players, and came out gaining a great amount of territory. These Brownies were proud to be part of such a hard-working and passionate team.

Golf

"We, the seniors, leave the rest of the team to deal with Connor Wytrych and one last trip to Wendy's."

The Boys' Golf team had a solid season. After losing many key players from last year, the defending Western Mass champs had a young team, but gained experience as the season progressed. Senior Sal Persico led the Brownies and took on the role as captain. Showing off his skill, he helped teach newcomers how to be competitive. Sal had the best scoring average on the team (40), and was selected to play in the Western Mass Championship. Other key players were Kevin Osgood, Eric Holt, Drew Randall, Brett Barker, and Jeff Lazzazera.

They played at many different locations, but their home courses were The Ranch, Oak Ridge, and Agawam Municipal CC. At Oak Ridge, their best score was an impressive 225. The first match against Pittsfield was exciting and ended as a tie. Memorable moments included shooting their season lows as a team. Many of the team members recall the meet against Southwick. Agawam won by about 70, and everyone played great. It was an unfortunate loss for them however, after missing the Western Mass Tournament by only one team stroke.

The 2006 gymnastics team was definitely the team to beat. They were extremely successful with a 15-0 undefeated record, a league title, and a Western Mass championship. They also won the best sportsmanship team award for the first time, expressing the enthusiasm and respect this team possessed. The WMASS tournament was held in our Clifford P.

Kibbe Gymnasium for the second year in a row. Lindsey Pfau performed at her best, placing first on beam, bars, floor, and best all-around. Steve Lucia also had a good meet, placing 2nd on the floor exercise and 3rd in all-around. # Boys' Soccer

The 2006 Boys' Soccer team didn't have as good a season as they had hoped, but their hard-work never seemed to end. The team was led by Captain Nick Dassatti, who always seemed to have something good and encouraging to say to the relatively young team. Senior Jon Lapins also helped the team out offensively, along with Derek D'Amours and Alfredo Settembre. Andy Schnepf and Aaron Carrier also helped on the defensive end. The Brownies' hard work and effort finally paid off towards the end of the season. The second to last game of the season Agawam tied Central 4-4 with goals by Alfredo Settembre, Shawn Roberge, and Nick Dassatti and the final game the Brownies picked up their first win against Westfield. Agawam was up 1-0 at the half with a goal by Mike Malerba. In the beginning of the second half, Westfield tied it up, but that didn't stop the Brownies. With only 2 minutes left in the season, Derek D'Amours popped one in to put Agawam up 2-1, and end the season with a victory.

Girls' Soccer

The 2006 Girls' Soccer team thrived under pressure and was determined to never give up. Although they needed 13 points in 6 games to get into the tournament, they kept their faith and proved many people wrong who didn't believe. They struggled in the beginning, going 0-4-3 without winning a game and tying a few, but midseason, they clicked and their season turned around. In the last 8 regular season games, they went 5-0-3. Captains Cassie Ashwell, Steph Obue, Sarah Roos, and Erin Theriault kept their team alive and kept team morale high. Ashwell, who was named in the Republican's Super 7 and Athlete of the Week, was nominated for All Western Mass along with Roos and Heather Coache. On Senior Night against East Longmeadow, Ashwell scored the lone goal and qualified for the tournament; an awesome way to end the last game on Harmon A. Smith field, especially for the seniors. Knocking Chicopee Comp out of the qualifying round was also memorable, especially since they made it to the next round. The team consisted of almost all the same people as the year before, but this year it was different - there was more determination and drive this season. The girls have a lot to be proud of, and will cherish the memories and friendships made, forever.

Girls' Volleyball

Led by captains and Athletes of the Week (Agawam Advertiser), Leah Drewnowski and Kelly Poirier, the Girls' Volleyball team had an amazing season. The team camaraderie showed both on and off the court. Their determination and drive pushed them to the Western Mass tournament. Emily Laliberte and Stacy Croteau, winners of the team Sportsmanship Award, were key contributors to the team's success, along with Katey Figella and Noelle Myers. Croteau's winning point during a big game against West Springfield was crucial, and beating Amherst away on their Senior Night was another season highlight. That game was very important; Agawam was the underdog, and Amherst was the number 2 team in WMASS. The Brownies played 4 games against them, winning 3-1 and shutting down one of the best middle hitters in the league. Against Frontier, the top team in Western Mass, the girls stood strong and proved that they could play with the best. They took Frontier to 5 games, but lost by only 4 points in the last game, with 3 starters injured. In the playoffs, the Brownies lost to Amherst in the quarterfinals, but were extremely proud of their many improvements from last season.

Winter All-Stars

Winter sports are always a strong aspect of athletics at AHS. Wrestling team is consistently a contender in the Western Mass tournament, and the Girls' Indoor Track team came back this season looking for another Western Mass Championship title. Both the Boys' and Girls' Swimming teams looked more competitive than ever this winter. Girls' Basketball is consistently talented, and Girls' Skiing started off the season late, due to the absence of snow, but strong. Many sports and individuals made it into the tournament this season, and that is why the Agawam athletic program is known as one of the best around.

Boys' Basketball

Coach Dave Federico had a tough task stepping into his first season coaching a varsity squad with only four returning players. This meant the 2006-2007 Boys' Basketball team was young and inexperienced, but this gave them even more motivation to improve their 3-17 record from last year. The team was led throughout the season by senior captains John Rossi and Brian Foley. Also in the mix were junior returnees, Al Ferrentino and Second Team All-Western Mass three point shooter Derek D'Amours. With the help from newcomers Bryant D'Amours and Andrew Dean, the team gained more outside shooting and stronger rebounding. Although the score did not always show it, the hustle and intensity always made for good games and an exciting season for the Brownies.

Girls' Basketball

The 2006-2007 Agawam Girls' Basketball team had tough shoes to fill after the graduation of First-Team, All-Scholastic point guard Kara Powell. The team knew it would be tough with the loss, but with only a few adjustments, the team was right back on the winning track. The girls knew that hardwork and dedication would be the key to a successful season. This year's team was coached by Bronwyn Monahan and led by senior captains Laura Lyons, Jaimie Plamondon and Meaghan Serra. With the talent and leadership of these veterans, the team was once again a tough competitor in their Valley Wheel league. Also contributing to the team, were returning juniors Julie Gorman and Christina Korney. Gorman's tough post moves and Korney's sharp shooting helped lead the Brownies to many victories throughout the season.

Cheerleading

Usually when people think of Cheerleaders they just think of the frigid cold Friday Night Football games and exciting home basketball games. To the girls, these events are just fun and more practice. What this squad works hard for from September to March are the cheerleading competitions. Agawam has won the WMass title for the past nine years. This year the team did not get to compete in the fall but are still working hard for the winter competition. This season the competition was tougher, with different teams that joined the league. The 2006-2007 squad was coached by AHS alumni and former cheerleaders Ashley Lorraine and Amanda Lemeiux. Although the squad lost four strong seniors last year, everyone stepped it up when it came to crunch time. With the leadership from senior captains Jess Kodess, Erica Morris, and Ashley Martin, the team pulled together and worked hard everyday.

Ice Hockey

The 2006-2007 Agawam Hockey team had an exciting season under Coach Rich Feeley. Led by senior captains Sal Persico, Kurt Ripke, and Nick Pisano, the team worked hard continuously throughout the season. Other strong contributors were defenders Kevin Daubitz and Brandon Groom, as well as Jeff Nation and Brett Barker on the front line. Agawam's goalies Andrew Barcomb and Steve Fiedler also put in a lot of hard work and effort. Although the Brownies' home rink was in West Springfield, they still managed to get plenty of fan support. The crowds' spirit was remarkable, even the AHS band attended. The game against arch rival West Springfield gave those loyal fans one of the biggest thrillers of the season. The game was tied at 1-1 with a goal from freshman Kevin Mackin, until the third period when senior Nick Pioggia popped one in to put the Brownies up 2-1. Persico scored on an open net after WestSide pulled the goalie with about two minutes to go, giving Agawam a victory and a final score of 3-1. Everyone played hard, worked together and came out with an exciting upset. Agawam also played at the Mass Mutual Center in Springfield against Taconic, preceding a Saturday night Springfield Falcons game. Agawam won 3-1 by 2 goals from Pioggia and one by freshman Nick Planzo. Barcomb also played great in the net with 25 saves. The team continued to work hard and to play with heart as a team, finishing up an impressive season for the Brownies.

Boys' Indoor Track

"We, the indoor track seniors, leave hallway afternoon delight inspirational Pryce speeches, the legendary Reggie Lewis, and Frank Liberti's spandex."

The Boys' Indoor Track team focused on gradually improving throughout the 2006-2007 season. A strong set of newcomers and the loss of only two seniors were two big factors that helped the team rebound from previous seasons. Captain Bryan Roy led the team through hard work and perseverance with hopes of shaking up and spoiling the Pioneer League. Seniors Michael Andrews, Thomas Goodrow, and Joshua Dion provided strong races throughout the season in events they competed in. Andrews was consistently the best 1 miler in the league, and flirted with the school record time all season. Goodrow (600 meters), Dion (300 meters), Nick Midura (600 meters) and Ryan Morrie (300 meters) provided strength in the mid-distance and sprinting events, as well as huge components to the 4x400 relay team. Roy led the team in hurdles, long-jump, and 4x200 relay team. Although plagued with an early season injury, Midura eventually returned as one of the most feared mid-distance runners in the league. The team brought talents together in a thrilling 47-46 upset victory over Amherst in the third meet. Andrews won the mile (4:53), Dion won the 300 meter (39.93), Goodrow won the 600 meter (1:33), Phil Scoville won the shot put (37-01.75), Roy finished second in the hurdles (8.59), and Brett Longhi finished second in the high jump (4' 10"). Roy, Andrews, Dion, Goodrow, Morrie and Midura also qualified to compete in both the MIAA State Relays and Massachusetts State Championships at the Reggie Lewis Center in Boston. Solid chemistry helped bring this team together in an exciting year at the Smith College Indoor Track facility under the Friday night lights.

Girls' Indoor Track

Defending a Western Mass title is tough, but the Girls' Indoor Track team was hungry for a second. Leading the team this year were senior captains Caitlin Breault, Rachel Dionne, Carly Keeley, and Lindsey Pfau. With many newcomers, these girls had to show everyone what it takes to become a champion. With many returning point scorers from last year, the Brownies were looking for a new challenge - winning the Massachusetts State title. Returners who scored in Western Mass last year included Katherine McGeoghan (1st in high jump and 55m high hurdles), Breault (3rd in 55m), Pfau (2nd in 55m high hurdles), Angela Roux (4th in 300m), Dionne (4th in 600m), and Lauren Chartier (4th in high jump). Other key veterans were Keeley, Jessica Beroth, Lindsay Jacks, Nikki Lownds, Becca Montano, Allie Black, Megan Moriarty, and Kate Olson. After the first meet at Smith College against West Side, Agawam felt confident about defending their title. Promising newcomers were Megan Breault, Jillian Van Ness, Jenny Kapinos, and Caitlin Paulin. The girls annihilated the Terriers, placing first in all but one event. C. Breault (long jump, 55m), McGeoghan (high jump, 55m high hurdles), Beroth (2 mile), Dionne (600m), Van Ness (300m), Montano (1 mile), and Danielle Stelma (1000m) all won their events. Holyoke also proved to be no match for powerhouse Agawam - the Brownies won their second meet 80-11. The girls swept all but 5 events. Double winners for Agawam were C. Breault (long jump, 55m), McGeoghan (high jump, 55m high hurdles), and Montano (1 mile, 1000m). Montano's mile time of 5:59 set a new school record. Their strong nucleus and returning talent is expected to take Western Mass by storm in an encore title.

Boys' Skiing

A bigger team than in years past made the Boys' Skiing team happy with the great turnout. Captain Mike DeChristopher noted that their freshmen were ready to work hard to provide depth, while the returning racers would build on last year's experiences. He also acknowledged the fact that the team this season was ready for the pressure of races. Losing nobody to graduation was a key aspect that the boys grew upon - they could only improve since last year. Everyone on the team received the opportunity to be a major contributor, and they definitely seized the opportunity. Along with M. DeChristopher, Tim Olson, Andrew DeChristopher, and Seth Carrier were ready to step it up and help provide the freshmen with advice. This winter was not a great one for skiers -

the typical New England weather came late. Every year skiers pray for a huge snowstorm so that they can hit the slopes. This year, the team did pray for snow, but it didn't come for their first few meets. They practiced at Bousquet and Blandford two days before their scheduled first meet. The boys felt confident that they would excel during their races at Berkshire East the next day, but unfortunately, the meet was postponed. A week later, their second meet was also cancelled. Due to the lack of snow, which made it hard for the team to even practice on the slopes, the boys often swam at the junior high and took spinning classes at Gold's Gym. When it finally snowed, the boys celebrated and showed off their talent.

"We, the seniors, leave the underclassmen the cold nights, long practices, and the never-ending pursuit of victory."

Girls' Skiing

With the winter heat wave and the absence of snow, the Girls' Skiing team was disappointed at the start of the season. Where was all of the snow? The girls were anxiously awaiting the first snowfall. Instead of practicing on the slopes, they were forced to take part in intense spinning classes at Gold's Gym and swim at the Junior High. They practiced three to four times per week, and hit the slopes for the first time when they practiced at Bousquet on January 2nd, two days before their first meet. The next day, they hit the slopes at Blandford to prepare for their races. Unfortunately, due to lack of snow, their first meet was rescheduled to January 11, which was then cancelled again. At that point, the girls were praying for the white stuff so they could actually race on the 18th. Led by the top two skiers, captains Molly Nowill and Cait Hurley, the girls were confident that they would make states. Other key contributors were Stephanie Scherpa, Sarah Reutt, Sapa Truong, and Amanda Ledwith. The team this year had great talent and potential with 8 newcomers and 7 freshmen. All of their meets were held at Berkshire East, which is located along the Mohawk Trail about 1 1/2 hours away. They finally had their first meet on January 16th, placing first overall in the B Division. Nowill led Agawam by placing second with a time of 32.99. Scherpa finished third and Hurley came in fifth en route to the Brownie's victory.

Boys' Swimming

"We, the seniors, leave the diving board and lay lines to all of the underclassmen. Take care of it, it's the only equipment you have."

The Boys' Swimming team felt confident that this season would be a big improvement. The team was led by junior captain Steve Lucia, with the help of senior Josh Brandon and sophomore Zach Benoit. With many new faces and a lot of talent, they trained hard for each meet, using the motto "perfect practice makes perfect." Feeling pressure to succeed, the swimmers hoped to concentrate on their own events, while cheering on their teammates. The boys started the season off strong with a win over Cathedral. Benoit led the team by winning the 50 and 500 freestyles, and joining with teammates Lucia, Brandon, and Joseph Zello to take the 400 relay.

Other winners were William Turner (200) and Lucia (fly). A win against Easthampton made the team's spirits soar. They crushed the Eagles by winning all but two events. Benoit (200, 500) and Aaron Cushing (100, back) each won two events for Agawam. Benoit, along with Boglisch, Zello, and Lucia, also placed first in the medley relay, while Lucia (200 individual medley) and Zello (breast), also took their individual events. Against Chicopee, the Brownies put up a good fight, losing 93-60. Lucia won two events, the fly and breast, while Benoit came in first in the 500. Such a victorious season proved their motto that hard work does pay off.

The Girls' Swimming team was excited for many new underclassmen to replace last year's graduated senior. The team has improved greatly over the years, so everyone was excited this winter. Captain Chelsea Hendricks, along with fellow senior Kate Iacolo knew that the team would be successful. With such a close-knit group, they had fun while working hard – teamwork led them to success. From the start, they had a solid group of experienced swimmers who knew what it took to win races. Key swimmers included Taryn Dooley, Nikki Bouley, Sarah Torrey, and Holly Walsh. After an intense first meet against Cathedral, these athletes knew they needed to step it up. They lost by only 2 points in a nail-biter on December 22. Torrey won two races (fly, back) for the Brownies, while Bouley (200), Dooley (200 individual medley), and Lauren Weiner (diving) also won their races. The team was amped for the second meet, which was victory over Sci-Tech, where Agawam came in first in every event. Again, Torrey won two events (200 individual medley, 100 backstroke), and Dooley took both the 50 and 100 freestyles. Torrey and Dooley teamed up with Hendricks and Bouley to win the medley relay.

Agawam gave Easthampton a run for their money. The meet ended with a 95-85 victory for Easthampton. The medley relay consisted of Dooley, Bouley, Hendricks, and Torrey. After the race ended, Easthampton was disqualified for starting too early, and Agawam took first. Taryn Dooley led the team, winning both the 200 individual medley and back stroke. Other winners for Agawam were Weiner (diving) and Bouley (fly). The Eagles and Brownies were tied at 60-60 going into the 200 free relay, but the girls couldn't shut down the powerhouse Easthampton. Although the loss was disappointing, it proved to the team that they could compete with the best in Western Mass.

Wrestling

With so many solid returners and promising newcomers, the Agawam Wrestling team had a very strong start. During preseason, the wrestlers felt confident about their future success and felt the team worked harder than any other team in Western Mass. Led by captains Chris Alvanos and Matt MacFadzen, the Brownies wowed their opponents. Alvanos, an All-New England wrestler, along with MacFadzen, Anthony Costa, Anthony Stork, and Jake Ferreira, were all strong veterans. Newcomers Fermin Diaz, who was ranked statewide, and James Cunningham proved to be positive additions to the team from the very beginning. The Brownies prepared for the season by participating in events such as the The Milford Tournament, The King Philip Regional Invitational, and The Phil Tomkiel Tournament. Against Longmeadow, heavy-weight Pat McLane registered a pin in the final match to clinch the victory for the visiting Brownies. Chris Alvanos, Drew Fila, Anthony

Jimenez, and Dave Depalo also had pins for Agawam, while Cunningham, Costa, Justin Marcoux, and MacFadzen all won their matches. Agawam also proved victorious at home during the quad meet, beating Mount Greylock and Granby. At The Phil Tomkiel Tournament, Agawam placed second, only 9 points behind Southwick. Alvanos won the Most Outstanding Wrestler award, and also captured the 119-pound title for the Brownies. Other first place winners included Ferreira, Costa, Diaz, and Depalo. Central proved to be a tough opponent for the wrestlers. In a head-to-head match against a reigning state champion, Alvanos proved that he was ready for the challenge. He, along with Marcoux, Jimenez, Diaz, and MacFadzen, all won their weight classes. After many exciting and successful tournaments, the boys' wrestling team knew they had the heart and determination to be champions.

Events

High School is said to be “one of the best times of our lives,” but what makes it so memorable and unforgettable are the many different events that occur throughout the year. During the fall, the Senior Kid Party included many students dressed in crazy costumes and comical characters. Orange and Brown Day was another major success, as the underclassmen once again tried to beat the undefeated senior class. The football team played their hearts out in the traditional Agawam vs. West Side game, bringing home yet another victory. Prom 2006 was a magical and unforgettable night, as the juniors and seniors ate and danced away at the beautiful Log Cabin. As the holiday season came about, members of S.A.D.D. took the initiative to hold a ceremony for those who have passed during the last ten years. Friends and family gathered, candles were lit, speeches were made, and those were remembered who left us unexpectedly. For the graduating seniors, these events are their last chance; their last opportunity to have fun and make the best memories possible. Whether it was crazy parties, enthusiastic Agawam traditions, or unforgettable ceremonies, the events held during the past four years, have made high school a little easier and a bit more enjoyable.

PROM 2006

Miles and miles of the beautiful Pioneer Valley could be seen from the spectacular mountainous setting of Holyoke's Log Cabin. Limousines arrived with seniors and juniors to witness the breath-taking viewpoint from atop Mt. Tom. Professional and disposable cameras captured the night's "Castle in the Sky" theme from start to finish. After the delicious fillet mignon and other meals, the dance floor brought a packed house to their feet. Prom king and queen were Jim Yelinek and Lauren Surprenant, while prom prince and princess were Bryan Roy and Nicole Witaszek. The royal guests left the night with memories and recollections of prom living up to its great expectations.

Because prom is one of the most memorable nights experienced throughout high school many hours of preparation are necessary to make this one night possible. When it comes to planning, Mr. Trahan and his talented committee members have their hands full. They take the time to make sure every aspect of prom is carefully planned out. Prom Committee is responsible for everything, including picking a theme, making menu choices, deciding on music and decorations, selling tickets, and arranging seating. The responsibilities do not stop there. Prom committee must also raise money to make this special night possible. It goes without saying that a perfect prom night would not be a reality without the hard work and dedication of the members of Prom Committee.

ORANGE AND BROWN

What could be better than an atmosphere full of crazed students decked out in orange and brown? This year's Orange and Brown day competition for the singing of the school song was the most heated competition the school had ever seen. The senior class of 2007 entered the gym as defending back-to-back champions. They made sure the whole school knew who had the bragging rights. With school spirit at an all-time high and top bragging rights on the line, each class rose to the occasion in a battle for the most school spirit. In the end, a classic junior vs. senior playoff championship resulted in the first ever 3-peat pep rally victory. The class of 2007 was once again successful in defending their hard-earned title and they rewrote history along the way.

THANKSGIVING

Great rivalries aren't born overnight. That's why the tradition of the Agawam and West Side Thanksgiving Day football game is so important to students, alumni, and fans. The annual turkey day classic has been prominently dominated by Agawam. The Brownies were riding a 6-year winning streak into West Side on a rainy and cold morning. After last year's snow-covered game, both teams were prepared to play no matter what the weather.

A slow start for Agawam resulted in a quick 12-0 deficit at the half. However, the Brownies' intensity exploded in the second half to send the game into overtime, thanks to touchdowns from Juniors, Nick Midura and Anthony Jiminez.

During overtime, Jiminez scored another touchdown and 2-point conversion for a 20-12 lead. A big defensive stop clinched Agawam's 7th consecutive Thanksgiving Day win, and a much better tasting turkey dinner.

POWDER PUFF

Playing a hard football game during the Thanksgiving festivities isn't just up to the boys. The annual Powder Puff game provided the junior and senior girls an opportunity to run, pass, and win class bragging rights. Because of snow last year, both teams were playing for their first time.

After a scoreless first half, the senior girls stepped up their offense and scored back to back touchdowns for a 14-0 win. Laura Lyons, Steph Obue, and Erin Theriault lead the seniors to triumph. Julie Gorman also made big plays and kept the juniors competitive. The game brought intensity and a revitalized tradition back to Agawam's Thanksgiving festivities.

SENIOR KID PARTY

This year's senior Kid Party was a night to remember. All who attended the event on November 6, 2006, got a chance to show off their creative sides and act like kids again. Costumes ranged from superheroes to popular characters such as Mario and Luigi, the Pokemon cast, and the Average Joes from the movie Dodgeball. Also contributing to the night's festive atmosphere were mobsters, army girls, old men, sports stars and even the Incredible Hulk. The award for best group costume was presented to the student IDs for their creativeness and humor. Many students were hesitant to be the first ones out on the dance floor, but with the help of the DJs Erik and Andrew Jensen, the crowd got moving and had a great time. Overall, the Kid Party was a successful night, full of costumes, dancing, decorations, and good times.

CANDLELIGHT VIGIL

The holiday season is associated with overly packed stores, crazed impatient people, and a rush to buy a bountiful amount of perfect gifts for family members and friends. Yet, when the holiday season strikes, people tend to forget the main purpose of Christmas, Chanukah, and other winter-time holidays. The main idea of the holiday season, is to share special moments with family and loved ones. The members of Students Against Destructive Decisions did just that. Tuesday, December 19, 2006, advisor Maureen Quinn and the members of S.A.D.D. organized a Candlelight Vigil in remembrance of former Agawam students, who unfortunately passed away over the last 10 years. Those students remembered included, Christopher Twarkins c/o 1997, Michael Lauro II c/o 1997, Larry Orenstein c/o 1998, Ashley Turniak c/o 2001, Elizabeth Loughman c/o 2004, Kyla Roberts c/o 2004, Jason Olbrych c/o 2006, and Brenton Schively c/o 2008. During the ceremony a candle was lit for each student by one of the members of S.A.D.D., from which attending individuals lit their own. Heart-warming speeches were made from members of S.A.D.D., Mary A. Czajkowski, and loving family members. According to Mrs. Quinn, "the holidays are a time to remember family and S.A.D.D. thought we should remember our family here at AHS." In all, the Candlelight Vigil was a great way for the community to remember the students that were once with us in body and to remember that they are still with us in heart.

Performing Arts

Agawam High School takes a great pride in those students who are not afraid of showing their true artistic abilities. Throughout the year, many creative students have participated in musical productions, school plays, and art shows. The traditional Top 40 Shows are always extremely entertaining with different performances from a wide variety of genres. This year's play, Damn Yankees, was put on by Mrs. Vallon-Jackson and her class of upcoming actors and actresses. With the dedication and devotion from Ms. Funk-Olin, Mrs. Vallon-Jackson, and Ms. Kalpalka, the musical productions, comedy dramas, and choreography classes have greatly improved over the past few years. The Winter Arts Festival is yet another great opportunity for students to express their artistic ability. Directed by Mrs. Florek and Ms. Waters, students from Art Club and Art NHS displayed their hard work with bulletins and display cases all throughout the school. Each year brings fresh new talent and growing interest, enabling Agawam High School to continue its tradition of outstanding performances and artistic creations.

Damn Yankees

For all the drama queens and kings, school plays are the place for you. Just last year Mrs. Vallon-Jackson and Mrs. Funk directed the play production of Damn Yankees. The play was about a fanatic baseball fan, Joe Hardy, who was offered a shady deal by the devil to sell his soul to join his favorite team, the Washington Senators. Joe realizes later that home is where his heart belongs and through a glitch in the contract he does return home, but not before saving his very own team. To be a part of this amazing experience all it took was a few simple auditions and many rehearsals until the final production was performed. Not only were actors involved in the play, but took part and designed the sets and managed the lights. A line in the Damn Yankees says, "You gotta have heart," and Mrs. Vallon-Jackson replies that, "We showed our audience that our cast certainly does."

Winter Arts Festival

The holidays were in sight and students were eager for winter break. Although there was no snow on the ground, the annual Winter Arts Festival still took place on a wonderful evening at the high school. Artists and musicians joined forces to provide students, staff, and faculty a marvelous combination of talent throughout the building. Hundreds of paintings, displays, and live demonstrations highlighted the art departments' finest students. With colorful masterpieces showcased in the backdrop, performers from the chorale and chorus also kept viewers entertained and amazed by all their talent. The festival is an annual event that gives creative students an excellent opportunity to display a years worth of hard work and talent. It is an event that's highly anticipated year after year, evident in the dedication that the students show.

Agawam Spotlight

The spotlight was bright on those who demonstrated great talents in this year's "Top 40." Nick-named "Agawam Spotlight," this year's performance featured many excellent singing and dancing performances by our peers. Director and producer Ms. Funk, selected a committee to judge auditions for the big show, which is held three times during the year. Performances of songs from Justin Timberlake to Hinder were a big hit with the on looking students. Richard Rozanski sang a version of Britney Spears' "Toxic," and says "Top 40 shows how talented some Agawam students are." Advisor, Ms. Funk says the show is, "a good opportunity for students who have an ambition towards listening to pop music and always wanting to share some of their talent. It really gives them a chance to do something they really love doing outside of school."

Chorale

When singing in the shower, are the soaps and suds just not enough of an audience for you? Perhaps joining Chorale is the right choice for you. Chorale is made up a talented group of singers. This group practices their chords daily to improve their sound. Led by Ms. Funk-Olin, student vocalists are able to expand their vocal abilities. The students enjoy singing a variety of songs and attempting a variety of ranges. Ms. Funk-Olin challenges the group to strengthen their skills. The cooperative efforts of the vocalists result in beautiful harmonies.

Honors Chorus

As you walk through the basement of Agawam High School, you can always count on hearing the harmonic voices of Honors Chorus. Led by Ms. Funk-Olin, Honors Chorus strives to create one unified sound. This goal was achieved through hours of hard work and dedication. A variety of successful performances took place this year both at Agawam High School and around the community. The vocalists sang their hearts out at the Winter Arts Festival, performed at the Rotary and Lions Clubs, and even made a visit to Phelps elementary school. During the holiday season, the group entertained nursing home residents with their inspiring vocals.

Men's and Women's Chorus

There are no other sounds that could compare to the soothing and harmonic voices of the Men's and Women's Chorus. With the guidance of Ms. Funk-Olin, it's amazing how the male and female's voices can so nicely complement each other in any song. The Men's and Women's Chorus is a class that meets daily. This is the first year this group of talented students is meeting as a class. In the future, the program will develop and expand their vocal ability and perform in more events. Students that currently participate are looking forward to new challenges and more activities to enhance their singing abilities.

Choreography

What could be better than a class that allows you to have fun, be creative, and get great exercise? Choreography is offered at Agawam High School as an all-year elective course. Participants consider choreography as more than just a class. The students all share a passion for dance. This common interest creates a bond between the girls. They share unforgettable experiences that make the activity very rewarding. Choreography members spent a large quantity of time preparing routines for the "Agawam Spotlight." As always, the performances were greatly anticipated and turned out to be successful. This year's talented group also performed at the Junior High School Collaborative Concerts, the Winter Arts Festival and the High School's Spring Concert. For advisor Ms. Funk-Olin, the most memorable aspect of this year was working with Kristin Garvey as an intern. According to Ms. Funk-Olin, "she is an inspiration of creative energy."

Concert Band

The concert band consists of many of our school's most talented musicians. Dedicated to improvement, these talented students practice every day in class as well as Tuesday evenings from six to eight with band director Ms. Kapalka. This year, the band joined the rest of the music department to perform holiday pieces in the Winter Arts Festival on December 14th. The band succeeded in spreading Christmas spirit through their music. Other performances this year included the Band Time Concert, where the group played alongside the middle and junior high school bands, athletic recognition nights, and pep rally. The students even traveled to Cleveland, Ohio for a competition in May. The band members put their all into practicing for performances, and they love what they do. "To put together a performance is a wonderful process where both myself and the band members explore our relationship with the piece of music," Ms. Kapalka.

Marching Band

The hours of behind-the-scenes practice is what puts Agawam High School's marching band above the rest. During the fall months, the dedicated and enthusiastic members could be found every Tuesday and Thursday out on the football field from 6 to 8:30 at night. The effort put into these two-and-a-half hour practices was evident on Friday nights. The Mohawks never failed to entertain Brownie fans with their half-time performances. However, outstanding performances went beyond the AHS football stadium. This year's Marching Mohawks, led by Ms. Kapalka, played their hearts out all the way up until the bone-chilling Thanksgiving Day game in West Side. These talented students also let their music be heard at the Big E and Memorial Day parades. The Mohawks not only possessed hard work and talent, but heart and enthusiasm as well. Senior Dee Russo said "the great people and the late night band bus rides" was what she enjoyed most about marching band this year.

Jazz Band

You have heard the marching band help inspire and root for our home team during the football games, but have you ever heard the cool soothing notes of the Jazz Band? They practice every fourth period in preparation for the Winter Arts Festival, the Spring Concert, and various jazz competitions in January, February, and March. Ms. Kapalka is the jazz band advisor and one of the most gratifying things for her is watching her students evolve. They begin at their first rehearsal where the students struggle with rhythms to later on at the concert where they can play their pieces beautifully. Meghan Little and Richard Rozanski put it plain and simple, "jazz band is the highlight of our day!"

Theatre

Lights! Camera! Action! Theatre students have the opportunity to learn all the ins and outs of play production. Along with learning the aspects of putting on a play, they also get the chance to actually perform a few. Theatre normally puts on productions for Halloween and Valentine's Days and a third play in the spring. During fourth period every day and at dress rehearsals after school, theatre students tackle many challenges, such as choosing the right play, casting, scheduling, and other technical aspects of play production. Mrs. VJ says that, "without a group of responsible, hard working, and talents students, it would be impossible."

“It’s a Howl”

Come fourth period, a school for teenaged werewolves could be found in the auditorium. The cast and crew of “It’s a Howl” worked diligently all year to produce a play for both the students and outside audience. Advisor Mrs. Vallon-Jackson, helped the class throughout the year piece together the huge play, which stared a school of werewolves that are in a state of confusion after the owner dies. Senior Lisa Couture said a highlight of the play was “when Nick Dissatti dressed up as a girl. It’s a Howl was a lot of work but it came out pretty good,” said Couture. “The whole class enjoys working together to put on plays.”

Clubs

Even though the final dismissal bell rings at 1:45, there are many students who spend hours after school participating in their favorite clubs. Agawam High School offers a wide variety of clubs, from Student Government, to Shakespeare, to even Board Games. In the past few years, new clubs have been added, including: the Japanese, Knitting, Diversity Leadership, and S.A.D.D. organizations. These after school programs provide a time to socialize with students with similar interests and hobbies. At Agawam High School, after school involvement is at an all-time high, even though many students deal with juggling a dual commitment between clubs and athletics.

Athletes In Motion

Aside from practices and games, hundreds of our finest athletes participate in Athletes in Motion. The after school club provides student-athletes with many great ways to give back to the community. The advisors and the near 150 members, rake leaves for the elderly, clean up the town, spend time at the senior center, and donate to Toys 4 Tots. The advisors to this organization were Mr. Pryce and Mrs. Hall, while Athletic Director Mr. Conte and Vice-Principal Mr. Schnepf provided administrative leadership.

"(Our goal is) to give back to our community and show the positives that athletes can and will do," said Pryce. "All (members) are school athletes of various sports and backgrounds. However, they all work together to achieve common goals. We show what athletes can do to make school and athletics better for everyone."

Art Club

Art club is a place for students to let their imaginations run wild and get in touch with their creative sides, without any criticism. Advisors Mrs. Florek and Mrs. Waters provide students with a relaxed environment to work in. The only requirement is "the will and desire to create!" The club is treated mostly as an open studio for students who show enthusiasm and appreciation for art. At meetings, students and advisors enjoy the ability to share in each others' creative experiences. Art club members have a great time creating sets for school productions. Their abilities are also put to use in advertising visual and performing arts events. This year, the students even made plans to tackle a mural!

Art NHS

"When you do art, you just zone off and forget about your stresses in life just like playing a sport." - Anonymous. For the extraordinarily talented art students, Art National Honor Society is a great escape from the pressures of regular honor classes. Advised by Mrs. Florek and Ms. Waters, Art NHS helps to advocate for the arts in our schools and prepare students who plan on furthering their careers in the arts. As Lisa Hersey said, "Art Honors is a good experience for students because they get a feel for a studio like environment." The students display their dazzling works in events such as the Winter Arts Festival, Spring Honors exhibit, and of course for colleges in their overflowing portfolios. One of the most memorable moments for the class was when they dedicated last years Honors exhibit to James Franco, a past student who unfortunately passed away in a car accident. The class has been acknowledged for their incredible work in being made into one of the few schools as a National Charter (number 2247).

As Schools Match Wits

The As Schools Match Wits team saw new faces in charge this year. Mr. Benkert and Ms. Moriarty took over for Mrs. Mouneimneh in preparing the team to compete against surrounding area schools in a battle of not-so-common knowledge. Every Wednesday after school, room 80 was filled with excitement as students prepared for the televised competitions. Eager to expand their knowledge, students played trivia games such as Jeopardy on a regular basis. The team also used various quiz books to strengthen their brain power. Advisor Mr. Benkert said, "I love trivia and being able to test my wits against the students. They always win."

Board Game

Ever thought about joining a club at school, but nothing seemed to interest you? The Board Game Club is a club unlike any other. The club was created to focus on the social aspects of school rather than academics. According to presidents Daniel Walsh and Max Kibbe, "all you need to be a part of Board Game Club is a pulse and the will to have a good time." There is never a dull moment for Board Game Club members. Students enjoy each and every meeting and can always be found smiling, laughing, and having a good time. Advisors, Mr. Dutton and Ms. Davis help to create a relaxed social community for students with a passion for board games. The enthusiastic group even made plans to expand their club experiences beyond the walls of Agawam High School and have experimented with bowling, roller skating and laser tag.

Career Center

One of our school's most useful and valuable resources has grown dramatically under the leadership of Ms. Hunter. The career center helps to ease the challenges and hardship students face when making the transition into the workforce. This year, many programs and activities have helped students land jobs and find careers. In an effort to guide career-making decisions, Career Week 2006 featured speakers from all over Western Massachusetts representing five different careers. The Career Center is an excellent source for community and school-based internships and job shadows. According to Ms. Hunter, one of the most rewarding experiences is when, "students doing a job shadow come back knowing they have found a career or acknowledging it is something they never want to do." Ms. Hunter is also the director of the summer job fair, tech prep, and virtual high school. The career center proves as a valuable tool for all students.

Cooperative Education

Class & Job

Try the cooperative education program here in Agawam High. One has the possibility to earn cold hard cash during school hours. In this program, students can earn credits for working at jobs that provide knowledge and experience in the work force for future careers. Open to juniors and seniors, students have taken jobs on a horse farm, working with young children and in automotive. The students have also taken slightly more usual jobs such as in the food industry and in retail. Under Mrs. Marble, the program has been increasing in popularity year after year. But keep in mind these students are required to take the Cooperative Education course and the advisor uses the Massachusetts Work-Based Learning Plan to evaluate students' work. So fill out your form today and start raking in the cash tomorrow.

Career Technology

Looking to pursue a career right after high school? Then perhaps the collaborative program is right for you. Half of your day is spent doing the usual routine of class in school, and the second part of your day is spent at the Lower Pioneer Valley Educational Cooperative School. In the L.P.V. students can take courses in cosmetology, automotive, graphic design, and the list goes on and on. It's a great opportunity for students who don't wish to attend college and want to get a head start for their intended job field.

Chess Club

It's not just all fun and games anymore. Chess club consists of a group of students who practice chess to compete with other schools, and later in the year, in the Western Mass Scholastic Chess Tournament. Advisor Mr. Bodurtha, knows this club must be a winning team! There are no requirements to be part of this club, merely an interest in some, "good-natured competition," as Mr. Bodurtha says. If you're looking to learn a new game or win an epic battle of chess against your arch nemesis, then join the Chess Club, and you are destined to have a good time.

Future Teachers of America

Thinking about following in your favorite teacher's footsteps? With help from advisors Signor Orefice and Mr. Figy, you can do just that. Members of Future Teachers of America put forth remarkable efforts to serve our school and community. Along with organizing the always successful blood drive, the group raises money for senior scholarships with candy sales and helps students get in touch with their competitive sides during the annual Penny War. The main goal of this organization is to provide service to the community while inspiring future educators. With the dedication of its members, the Future Teachers of America are able to achieve their goal.

Diversity Leadership

Advocating diversity and respect is what these students do best. The Student Diversity Leadership Team is made of students who wish to break the barriers of cliques and stereotypes. These students lead by example by treating others with kindness and respect and presenting themselves in a healthy, admirable manner. The main goal of this organization is to end discrimination, therefore reducing violence in the school. Diversity leaders strive to promote non-violent forms of resolution. Students work to achieve their goals through school-wide events such as the "Day of Silence." The group also recognizes American Indian Heritage, Black History, Women's History, Asian/Pacific American History, Gay Pride, and Disability Awareness.

Intergenerational Book Club

Many people wonder, are there still people who read for fun? Of course! The book club is a great place for these kinds of students who read in their spare time for personal enjoyment. The students meet about once a month with advisor, Mrs. Kundl and co-advisor, Mr. Bodurtha, to discuss the chosen book for the particular meeting. The great thing about this club is that the only requirement is to have a love of reading. Book club is also a nice escape for students to speak openly about their opinions and about the books they have read. Now, just head out to Barnes and Nobles, grab a Mocha Latté from Starbucks, snag a book a comfy chair and let yourself get lost in another world.

Library

"Knowledge is power." At the General Abrams Library, that power can be obtained with the never ending supply of knowledge that can be attained through the various arrays of books. The library has any source one is looking for, and Mrs. Mokryzcki, the librarian, and her ever so valuable secretary, Mrs. Montagna, comes quite in handy. Together this force can help any individual find their needed resources to complete school assignments by breaking down the tricky Dewey Decimal System and searching through the infamous card catalog. So if you're looking to rule the universe or just need a book to do your homework, then stop by the school library.

The math team is a small group of intelligent students that have a particular knack for solving complex mathematical equations in a competitive environment. Advisor, Mrs. Tuthill, helps the team practice for meets. The club competes in about 5 meets all around Western Massachusetts. By being a member of the math team, one can challenge their mind while still having fun!

Mirror Staff

Six times a year, the mirror staff gives us a reason to look forward to last period when we receive the newest issue of The Mirror. The captivating articles that fill the pages of our school newspaper are a result of many hours of interviewing, researching, writing, and editing. Publication of this award-winning school newspaper began in 1923. To this day, the Mirror staff strives to bring the news of our school and community to Agawam High School students. Editor-in-chief, Ashley Wolos, associate editor, Lindsey Pfau, and their talented staff never fail to inform and entertain students with their coverage of everything from current events to sports, to arts and entertainment. The Mirror may be written, edited, and run by students, but advisor Ms. Mersack is a vital driving force, who pushes staffers to become better journalists. The staff has become even more enthusiastic about bringing news to students ever since they realized their "power behind the pen." Their articles have made a difference not only in our school, but in our community as well.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society recognizes students of good character who excel academically as well as demonstrate strong leadership qualities. The class of 2007 has an outstanding number of students who meet these high standards, showcased by the number of members that advisors Mrs. Mouneimneh, Mrs. Sasso, and Mrs. Stevens inducted this year. To be a member, students must maintain a 3.45 GPA, enroll in at least two honors or AP courses, and participate in at least two extracurricular activities. The diversity of the group is what makes it unique. It goes without saying that NHS is composed of many well-rounded students who have mastered the art of time management. These students balance academics, athletics, and a variety of different clubs with a required 40 hours of community service. Assisting the Agawam Public Library with their used book sale, fundraising for Toy for Joy, working for the Agawam Lions Club at the Big E, and participating in the Rays of Hope walk for breast cancer are only a few of the many services NHS students performed this year. NHS members are held to very high standards, but are also rewarded with privileges such as leaving school for lunch and exam exemptions.

French and Spanish NHS

The Spanish and French National Honor Societies are composed of students who have excelled in higher levels of foreign language study. Each spring, advisors Senora Sasso and Madame Kundl select a group of juniors to be inducted into this organization. A candle lighting ceremony is held in the school courtyard for students to pledge their membership. In the past, French and Spanish NHS were mostly honorary clubs. This year, students in both organizations took the initiative to become active members. Students and advisors enjoyed going out to restaurants and practicing their studied language in a social environment. Membership in these two honor societies is based not only on academic merit, but also a desire to learn another language, and have a genuine interest in a foreign culture.

Konichiwa! (Koh-NEE-cheewah) This means good day, a commonly used greeting in Japan. Want to learn more Japanese? Then attend a meeting for the Japanese Club. Mr. Bianca is the advisor, and to be part of this club, the sole requirement is to have an interest in the Asian Culture. At these meetings, students participate in a Japanese New Years' celebration and show off their dance skills in an exciting competition of Dance Dance Revolution. Want to recycle some paper as well? Take on the task of folding 1,000 paper cranes for "Historic Wish." The main goal of the club is to bring together individuals all of whom share an interest in Japanese and Asian culture, language, and art.

Knitting Club

It's arts and crafts time, and Knitting with Advisor, Mrs. Kundl, seems to be one of the most addicting and enticing clubs this year. Besides having the patience to learn the distinct art of knitting, the only other requirement is buying a pair of needles and yarn. Spreading "old-fashioned" skills is the main purpose of this club. Bringing back the simple things in life can make people gleeful. The students active in this club knitted squares to fashion a afghan blanket together for the homeless. Still not convinced that this is the club for you? In the words of Mrs. Kundl, "All the college kids are doing it!" So pull your own rocking chair up to your grandmas and begin your very own scarf today!"

S.A.D.D.

In its second year of operation under the direction of Advisor, Mrs. Quinn, Students Against Destructive Decisions continued to raise awareness about harmful activities such as drinking and drug use. The club's first event was Red Ribbon Week. Once again, the campaign was a success. For one whole week in October, the hallways of Agawam High School were filled with students sporting symbolic red ribbons. S.A.D.D. members furthered their effort by holding fundraisers, such as their bake sale which took place on November 12th. The organization was led by President Ashley Brinkmann and Vice President Kida Ejese while member-at-large Leah Drewnowski was also a big help. Throughout the year, these students, along with Advisor Mrs. Quinn strived to make student safety their number one priority. By informing their peers about the dangers of destructive decisions, S.A.D.D. members played a vital role in changing lives.

Peer Leadership

Peer Leadership is an organization devoted to promoting healthy lifestyles. Peer Leaders raise awareness about drugs, alcohol and seatbelt safety. Members set admirable examples for other students by signing a contract agreeing to remain drug and alcohol free. Along with keeping students safe, peer leaders dedicate themselves to a variety of charitable causes. This year, the group's first project was raising money for allergy relief. Each morning students could count on hearing a knock on the door of their first period class. It was the peer leadership kids collecting donations and getting students excited by promising a breakfast bonanza to the class with the highest percentage of donations. Between promoting student safety and donating to charities, members of Peer Leadership truly provide an excellent example for the rest of the student body.

Peer Tutoring

Extra help is just around the corner with the peer tutoring club. Members of this club care about helping out their peers with academic struggles, all year round. "Peer to peer tutoring is unique because this program allows students to help students," said advisor Mr. Kandar. "Both students benefit in such a situation." The club meets on Mondays and Thursdays, but students can stop by anytime during the week with special appointments. The club requires no experience, just a willingness to help. "It was started to help students too intimidated by their teachers to seek help in a setting that is not threatening," said Kandar. "Students of all academic shapes and sizes help each other out with a variety of subjects." Students not only receive help, but can also receive bonus points from their teachers.

Peer Mediation

Students are bound to have issues throughout high school, and the peer mediation club is trained to solve just those. "Peer mediators are students that are trained in the latest conflict mediation procedures," said advisor Mr. Figy. "These students are and do make a difference in our violent society." Mediators are required to complete the 3-day training course, which focuses on solving peers' troubles and getting through difficult times. The course is taken in the junior high with advisor Mr. Joyce. The caring students in this club help one another through social and home issues. According to Mr. Figy, "the club attempts to help students solve their differences in a non violent manner."

Robotics

If you hear robotics and think of robots, you are not that far off. In the Robotics club, the clever students and advisor Mr. Burns create new inventions using computer and carpentry-savvy skills. In this past year, students have created many types of robots, including a 120 pound robot that has the ability to shoot "poof balls." Designing these robots is an assiduous activity. During the meetings, students are divided into subgroups in order to work and complete different tasks. These groups include those that help to raise publicity for the bots and those who are dedicated to accounting. The robotics team has competed against 49 teams and has been awarded the Entrepreneurship Award, Human Player Award, and has also been named Battle Cry 7 Champions.

AFS

American Field Service is an international organization that gives students an opportunity to experience foreign cultures and meet students from around the world. The club began the year with a trip to the historic town of Salem, Massachusetts. AFS also hosted two international weekends to bring together exchange students from around New England. The social environment of AFS makes learning fun and interesting. AFS events gave students an opportunity to hear about cultures in countries other than the United States.

SAVE.

SAVE is valuable for the entire Earth. In this advanced age, with the mass amounts of pollution being the byproduct of the technology humans have created, S.A.V.E. helps to raise concerns about protecting and preserving our environment. S.A.V.E. Students Against Violating the Environment, has students that joined this beneficial club to really make a difference for our community, and on an even larger scale, the world. In this club, run by Mrs. Bertone-Gross and Mr. Piela, the members find creative ways of recycling products, brainstorming ideas for helping the environment, and assisting with the Friends of the Library Book Sale. The members met with a guest speaker from Robinson State Park and have gone there to investigate the vernal pools. Every single person can make a difference that can save the world, so remember the words of Captain Planet, "the power is yours."

Shakespeare

To join or not to join, that is the question. In Shakespeare Society, one looks at the life of William Shakespeare himself and produces short scenes based on the plays he wrote. Run by Mrs. Mouneimneh, the students created scripts themselves, performed plays, participated in Shakespearian trivia, and contests based on his passages. All AP Literature 12 students are required to take part in this society. Other than those that make this exception, joining this club means only one thing, you need to have an interest in Shakespeare. The clubs purpose is simply to promote the life and all the great accomplishments of Shakespeare to the entire school.

Student Government

Student government is an organization geared towards improving our school, as well as our community. First on the agenda this year was organizing freshman class elections. The group then proceeded to take on the task of fundraising to support Teacher Appreciation Week. This year's student government had a lot of enthusiasm, making meetings as well as community service activities enjoyable. Senior Caitlyn Tierney says, "Student government is an easy way for students in the school to get together and give back to the community." During the holiday season, student government members visited Shriner's Hospital to interact with the children. In addition, they collected can tabs to donate to the hospital. The best part about student government is the rewarding fulfillment members receive after contributing to the school or the community.

Ski Club

Let it snow! What better way to enjoy a brisk fresh snowfall than to ride on a ski lift to the summit of a ferociously large mountain, anxiously awaiting deployment. That is exactly what the students in ski club do. Club advisor, Mr. Hollister, plans trips to neighboring ski resorts for every Friday in the winter starting in January. The students participate in the most popular winter activity of skiing and the quickly growing activity of snowboarding. So grab some comfy, warm, long underwear and a parka to begin zooming down an adventurous snowy slope.

Unicorn and Poetry

Attention: Looking for magical creatures and imaginary beings, or at least creative writers and artists that can create these ideas and put them on paper. The Unicorn is a club, advised by Mrs. Hines, which captures the creative side of students in our very own school. Having an interest in poetry, short stories, art, photography, and graphics are all one needs to be part of this particular club. Ever wanted to have something you have written or created published? This club prints magazines for the school to read and enjoy. Is just being published not a great enough accomplishment? The magazine has been awarded "Best Magazine" and "Best Graphics" in the past. During meetings these innovative students discuss possible entries, and plan layouts and such for the magazine. Back in 1982 a former English teacher by the name of Larry O'Brian, began this creative club and ever since the club has been producing outstanding works over the years.

Quill and Scroll

Some of our finest scribes are honored by taking part in Quill and Scroll. Senior journalists in the upper third of the class include students that produce The Mirror, The Uniquorn, or The Sachem. Advisor Mrs. Hines inducts members with a candle lighting ceremony in the spring. "The purpose is to encourage young writers and honor their work and achievements in their literary pursuits," said Mrs. Hines. This years elected officers were President Gregg Lane, Vice President Lauren Chartier and Secretary Carly Keeley. Quill and Scroll members are honored at graduation with an honor chord and pin for their determination and hard work in our school's publications. Agawam's chapter of the internationally accredited program for high school journalists was founded in the 1970's by David Pulaski and Lawrence O'Brien.

The echoes of iron clashing together, the sound of treadmills' spinning tracks- those noises must be coming from none other than the weight room ran by Mr. Pryce. Our buff boys and girls in orange and brown take fitness to the next level in the Agawam Weight Room. Teams and individuals have the opportunity to chisel abs, sculpt out calves, and put on a gun show on any given day after school. Our facilities offer the finest ways to remain fit and competitive. Many machines from treadmills to leg presses push the envelope of becoming a healthier, more in-shape person. Whether it's building endurance from the cardio machines or sculpting out the muscles, the weight room has an activity for everyone.

Sachem Staff

A yearbook is more than just a recollection of the past year – it's the final product from a year's worth of diligent hard work. The entire Sachem staff knows the definition of teamwork. Each of us put together a small piece of this great puzzle with one goal in mind: creating a comprehensive look back on the greatest years of our life. This book, which we all take pride in presenting, symbolizes our hard work ethics and cooperation.

None of us knew how much work this project would entail. All 21 of us had completely different roles and responsibilities, anchored together by our advisor Christine Kolodziej. Her extensive yearbook knowledge and experience and spunky attitude guided our entire staff throughout the year.

Señora Kolodziej's guidance and leadership extended through our editors, Allie Shea and Kelly Poirier. The head honchos spent countless hours before and after school slaving to meet the deadlines. They organized "the bible," proofed every word, put in thousands of revisions, and gave the entire staff their honest opinions. The two had to make countless decisions throughout the year to build this book from the ground up. Whether they had to determine how many pages to allocate an event, or figure out the best way to present a club, the word "Sachem" would be out of our vocabulary without their unprecedented efforts and leadership.

The literary and sports staffs also gave big contributions to this masterpiece. Staffers Erica Morris, Lauren Chartier, Meaghan Serra, Rachel Dionne, and Bryan Roy were responsible for every written word in this book. All five of them did a phenomenal job tracking down clubs, teams, and students without missing one deadline. Every photo caption and write-up went through our deep editing chain to ensure accuracy and eloquence for our readers. All five captured the essence and low down of everything in our school.

And who wants to look at a yearbook without pictures? Our photo staff did an outstanding job capturing hundreds of students and taking numerous pictures throughout the year. Erin Theriault, Megan Lalli, and Alexa Scibelli covered games, events, clubs and individuals like no other. With stressful deadlines and busy schedules, the girls did a great job juggling all club, advertisement, and candid photo requests. These girls were always on the run, snapping shots, and fighting with the computer to burn them onto a number of CDs. A giant yellow calendar filled with events and appointments haunted these hard workers every day. Now however, their efforts have finally paid off.

To put the whole project together, layout staff was unparalleled. Katelin Thompson, Caitlyn Tierney, Carly Keeley, and Emilia Grimaldi accounted for the well-designed format. They spent hours after school glued to the computer making sure these pages were flawlessly constructed together. Since day one, these girls have mastered the art of Adobe PageMaker. Many days, they would be required to stay until well after sunset. Their hard work is clearly demonstrated throughout their carefully designed Sachem pages.

This year's ads staff was unmatched. Every day, Laura Gomes, Leah Drewnowski, Heather Coache, and Jessica Liquori provided the necessary income to fund this amazing book. The staff scrambled all around the Pioneer Valley with hopes of completing our financial security. They completed selling advertisements in a record-setting time while making sure we received our paychecks from businesses every Friday.

Behind the scenes, our business staff kept our check book balanced. Lauren Longhi, Michael Sapelli, and Holly Young were responsible for selling the books to each class and typing senior salutes. Their organizational skills made sure our finances kept steady and in the green.

This book symbolizes everything we've learned since grade school. It is living proof that any goal can be accomplished through teamwork and leadership. It's hard to believe that only two semesters brought so many memories together for many reminiscing years to come.

Love, Mom and Dad

Amelia O'Hare

Amelia,
Even before you were born, we knew we wanted our child to be secure, independent, self-confident, and loving. You've become all this and so much more! Like always, our advice to you is -Go - Go right, left, wrong, or right. Don't stop. Don't look back. No "what ifs?" You won't make wrong moves; you'll learn no matter what direction you choose. The only mistake you can make is to stand still. Go. We've done our best to give you everything you need to soar; love and to be free. We're so proud of you; we always are.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Steve Donab

Congratulations Steve!
As you depart AHS onto life's journey always remember to have a positive attitude, be a person of character, make good friends, believe in yourself, and don't forget to call home! Dream Big ~
Love, Dad, Mom, & Neil

Christina Harbour

Christina,
We have always been so proud watching you grow into the beautiful woman that you are today. Your hard work really paid off, we knew you could do it. Congratulations!
Love, Mom & Dad

Philip Mokrzycki

Phil,

Sometimes when a son grows up, the time he shares with his mom and dad are limited. Just remember, the family bond we share can't be changed; we are together even when we are apart. You've worked so hard and pushed yourself to get to this moment in your life. Always follow your heart, aim high, and never stop reaching for your dreams.

Congratulations on your graduation – you did it!

Love,

Mom and Dad

Vinnie Waite

Vinnie,
You are my sunshine, my only Sunshine... You will always be MY SUNSHINE!
Love you,
Mom

Matthew Poirier

Matt,

It seems like yesterday you were starting your first day of preschool, yelling "How could you leave me Daddy!" Now your college bound. We hope life is all that you want it to be. Remember always to do your homework.

Go Red Sox.

Love,

Mom, Dad, and David

Allie Sbea

It seems like only yesterday
 You were a beautiful baby girl
 Today you are a beautiful young woman
 Who can achieve anything in the world
 We watched you grow over the years
 And we laughed at you
 About some of your fears
 Your dance lessons, sports,
 Homework and such
 But we always knew
 You worried too much
 You grew to be a gifted young lady,
 Smart as can be and no longer a baby
 Off to college you will go
 To take your place in the world
 And when you are done
 You will give it a whirl
 To be the best that you can
 With all that you've learned
 To make us all proud
 Of that diploma you'll have earned.

From your loving family

Caitlin Breault

Cait,

Our wish for you is that this life becomes all that you want it to, your dreams stay big, your worries stay small, you never need to carry more than you can hold, and while you're out there getting where you're getting to, I hope you know somebody loves you and wants the same things too.

Love, Mom, Dad, Meg, & Chris

Megan Lalli

Megan,

Your best years are about to start. College will be a new beginning. I know you'll love it. I'm so glad you're my sister and my friend.

Love,
 Jessica

Kelly Poirier

Kelly,

It seems like it was just yesterday that you were this young. You have grown into an amazing, beautiful, loving, and caring young woman. We are all so proud of who you are and what you have achieved. As you begin the next journey of your life, may all your dreams continue to come true.

Love,

Mom, Dad, and Shawn

Kelly,

I am very proud of who you are and the choices you have made. I support you in the journey ahead, and our love will never fade.

Love,

Gram

Megan Lalli

Megan,

Thirteen years of Agawam schools. Now four years of college and a world of adventure await. Enjoy it all! We are so proud for you!

Love,

Mom and Dad

Molly Nowill

Molly,

Never settle for less than your best and remember the surf is always up somewhere!

We love you so much!

Mom, Dad, Courtney, and Uncle Peter

Thank You

Through the many hardships we faced, the deadlines we feared, and the unexpected events that occurred, the Sachem Staff would not have been able to accomplish the greatest project of the year, without the help from many others. We, the staff, put in hours upon hours of hard work, creating this amazing book. For those that helped along the way, we greatly appreciate your time, effort, and support.

Walt Steinmetz and his company deserve the most credit for supplying our pages with incredible sports and events photos. Not only were the action shots and team photos his work of art, but Steinmetz was also our official senior picture provider. He took care of the class "O7" photo in the stadium and the staff photo in Forest Park, which are viewed as favorites by many staffers.

Jostens representative, Amy Dunn, also provided the staff with her support and guidance along the way. Our consultant dealt with helping to design the cover, communicating with the publication plant, and of course, technical support. She also provided us with cover artist Rick Brooks, who designed the amazing "Sachem" cover.

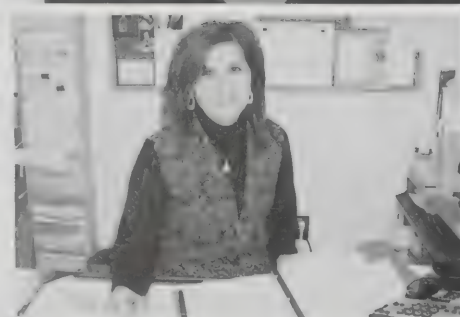

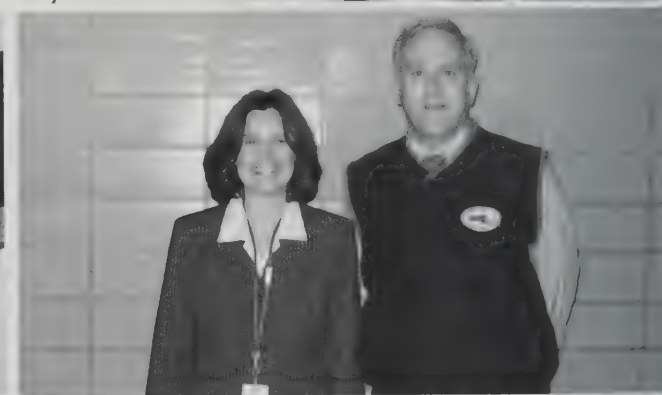

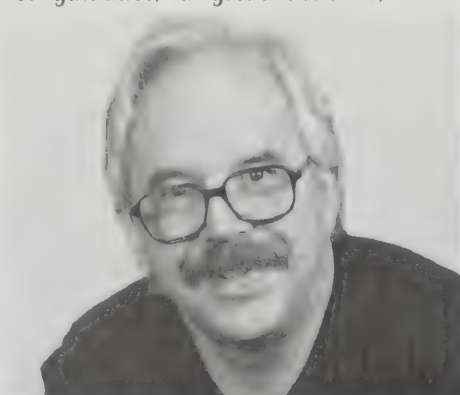

We give a big thanks to athletic director Mr. Conte, his secretary Mrs. Costello, and athletic trainer Mr. Jacques for their gracious efforts year round. All three went out of their way in giving us vital athletic information, photos, and rosters. That appreciation is also extended out to the entire athletic department. Every coach and player gave us valuable and comprehensive information that completed the Sachem's remarkable sports section.

Our layout and literary staff would also like to greatly thank the IT Department for providing us with an entire set of new computers to work with. With these new technologies, our staff was provided with much more convenience and faster work production. When open computers were hard to find, librarians Mrs. Montagna and Mrs. Mokrzycki gave us a home away from home. The library provided a peaceful and quiet place for us to accomplish our literary assignments.

The center office and guidance secretaries gave us valuable information when it came down to tracking students down. A big thanks to Mrs. Klien, Mrs. Moffat, Mrs. Tirone and Mrs. Trulove for providing class lists, "millions" of phone calls for sales, and our senior ads.

Club and committee advisors also made our jobs much easier by complying with our literary staff and presenting us with valuable information regarding their clubs. They provided many details regarding events, goals, and the purpose of each club. We would also like to thank all the teachers for constantly putting up with our pesky staff while we pulled students from valuable educational experiences. Those two minutes of precious class time went a long way in producing this book. Also, a large number of freshmen books were sold thanks to Mrs. Warner, a big helper in the business process.

And of course, most importantly, Mrs. Kolodziej, the heart and soul of our yearbook. She provided us with an overwhelming amount of knowledge and helped to sculpt this yearbook into one of the best. Although she was forced to leave due to a mid-year pregnancy, we kept her busy during our short time together. Mrs. Kolodziej demonstrated to us what real leadership and teamwork can accomplish. With her help, this yearbook is the heart and soul of our class, our look back for the future years to come. She provided us with a warm sense of guidance, a great attitude, and an unforgettable experience we will always remember.

"So don't be afraid to make mistakes, to stumble and fall, because most of the time the greatest rewards come from doing the things that scare you the most. Maybe you'll get everything you wish for. Maybe you'll get more than you ever could have imagined. Who knows where life will take you. The road is long and in the end, the journey is the destination."
